$120,000 Irvine Libel Suit Set For Trial April 30

COUNTY OIL PRODUCTION IN 1928 IS OVER $56,000,000

APPEAL FOR TRANSFER TO L. A. DENIED

Efforts of Los Angeles Examiner For Change of Venue Refused By Judge

AGREEMENT REACHED

Attorneys for Both Sides In Big Suit Agree to Go To Trial In S. A. Court

ATTORNEYS for James Irvine, who has brought a $120,000 libel suit against the Los Angeles Examiner as a result of alleged defamatory stories said to have appeared in that newspaper concerning the trial of a divorce case between Irvine and his former wife, had won the second round in the legal skirmish today when it was announced that the case would be tried in superior court here instead of in Los Angeles county.

The defendant in the case had appealed to the district court of appeals from an order by Superior Judge James L. Allen denying a change of venue. They hoped to have the case tried in Los Angeles county. But today the trial was definitely scheduled for the Santa Ana court on April 30 at 9:30 a.m. Having won their first skirmish, when they successfully resisted the attempt to have the case taken out of this county, Irvine's attorneys today were successful in the second encounter.

Irvine, who was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Madeline Irvine, after she had first sought a separation from him, specified in his complaint in the libel suit a number of stories appearing in the Los Angeles newspaper, which he declared were of a damaging nature to his reputation.

One of the headlines asserted to have appeared said, "Four women accused by Mrs. Irvine. Millionaire husband attracted away from home declares wife, asking $1,000 a month."

The news story is asserted to have said, "In her recital of marital storms

PRINCE WALES ASKS FOR AID OF SUFFERERS

Heir to British Throne In Stirring Speech Before Industries Fair

LONDON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—The move to relieve unemployment and suffering in Great Britain was given renewed impetus today by a stirring appeal of the Prince of Wales, in which he called on the country not only to contribute to temporary relief, but to aid in a trade revival which would help solve the basic troubles of British industry.

The prince's speech made at a dinner in the Mansion House last night opening the British Industries fair, was taken as another indication of the extent to which the popular young heir to the throne is turning his personal efforts to practical solution of British problems.

The prince appealed to everyone to continue contributions to funds for the unemployed. He also advocated overseas migration as one of the best remedies for the unemployment problem, and asked the dominions to co-operate.

"Is the salesmanship of Great Britain entirely up to date?" the prince asked, discussing foreign trade. "Is our salesmanship up to the standards of our workmanship? Given good salesmanship in future development we have little to fear."

"Miracles today are commonplace tomorrow. Our methods of production may be, and I hope will be, revolutionized. In such a revolution we can be confident of holding a fairly satisfactory place in the world's progress."

The prince referred briefly to his father, King George V, who is at Bagnor, Sussex, recovering from his serious illness.

"The king's determination to win through, which now appears likely to be successful, has been an inspiration to the whole nation," he said.

"With no less than 1,400,000 unemployed, the most important problem at present naturally is to try to find work," the prince said. "This appeal is not only in behalf of mine because they have been given prominence lately, but also for those thousands and thousands in other trades who are just as distressed and in some cases unemployed for a great deal longer than the miners."

Stimson Not To Hold Conference On Japan's Plans

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 19.—(UP)—Governor-General Henry L. Stimson of the Philippines will not confer with Japanese officials concerning naval matters while en route to the United States, it was learned from an authoritative source here today.

Previous reports from Tokyo were that Stimson would meet with leading Japanese statesmen and discuss with them Japan's naval plans. The report was credited to the newspaper Asahi.

WATERS OF GILA RIVER COME BEFORE SANTA FE CONFERENCE

SANTA FE, N. M., Feb. 19.—(UP)—Declaration by A. H. Favour of Arizona that even an international treaty with Mexico could not take away Arizona's vested rights to all the waters of the Gila river was the major development at the morning session of the Colorado river conference today.

Yesterday Arizona laid claim to all of the special 1,000,000 acre feet of water allowed the lower basin states by the Colorado river compact.

At the request of Utah, the conference recessed at 11 a. m. to give Utah delegates a chance to formulate questions they wish to be advised on before they leave for home at 3:30 p. m. today.

"You could not take water from the Gila river to meet a Mexico obligation even if you wanted to," said John Mason

Keyes And Two Defendants Ask For New Trial Today

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19.—(UP)—To department 27, the one in which he successfully prosecuted William Edward Hickman, former district attorney Asa Keyes went today to argue for a new trial and possibly to be sentenced to from one to 14 years in San Quentin penitentiary.

Although Keyes and Ed Rosenberg and Ben Getzoff, found guilty with him of conspiring to give and receive bribes, were tried in department 5, the Hickman trial courtroom was assigned to Judge Edward Butler to hear their motions for a new trial.

In event Judge Butler denied defense requests he intended to pass sentence at once.

Keyes and Rosenberg were handcuffed together when they entered the courtroom. The third defendant, Getzoff, who recently confessed his part in numerous bribery plots, was carried into court. He suffered a complete physical breakdown after his conviction.

Keyes sat beside his wife, Mrs. Lillian Keyes, and his daughter, Elizabeth, as counsel opened a lengthy argument.

CRIME-RIDDEN CHICAGO STILL WONDERS WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT AS POLICE MOVE IN CIRCLES

By EARL J. JOHNSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Crime-ridden Chicago today was staging another one of these intensely ironical dramas that have become common here since the profits of beer touched off the bloodiest gang war in the history of any American city.

New material for a Maurine Watkins or a Bartlett Cormack, authors of plays dealing with the law's failure to cope with the Chicago underworld, was being produced by a series of events affecting the police department, the city council and the "big shots" of gangland.

Probably the most ironical of the developments was the police department's search within its own ranks for the firing squad which mowed down seven members of the "Bugs" Moran beer running gang with machine guns last week against the brick wall of a north-side garage.

Police Commissioner William Russell called for all detectives and their squad cars to question the former and examine the latter on the theory that policemen themselves may have taken part in the crime. One report of the massacre said that two of the killers were in police uniform and that they rode in a detective bureau squad car equipped with a gun.

The scene shifts now to the Bridewell where "Polack Joe" Salts, cock of the southside beer walk and to whom some of the city's most brutal gang murders are attributed, is just completing a 60-day sentence for carrying a concealed weapon.

At 7:30 a. m. two squad cars drove up in front of the prison. Joe, occupying a front cell in an upper story window, spies the car. He throws open the window and calls out in his robust way:

"Hey, you! What the hell do you want me for now?"

"We don't want you, Joe. We're here to protect you," called back the driver of the first car. And so they are.

A few minutes later "Polack Joe" walks out of the door, blinking jovially at the booming of photographers' flashlights. He is met by two of his henchmen, surrounded by policemen and escorted to his home.

"Me for Florida," Joe tells the newspapermen who push their way through the ring of blue coats. "The beer business ain't worth it."

Delph Carpenter, Colorado's water commission, took exception to the statement made by Ross. He said he had stood at the point where the Gila flows into the Colorado in July and had seen water pouring down from the Gila.

Ward Bannister of Colorado opened a new phase of the mooted question when he said if Arizona was going to remove the Gila river from all consideration as a tributary of the Colorado, then all the tributaries of the upper basin states should also be removed.

Ross of Arizona. "During the summer months the lower 200 miles of the stream bed is dry, and even if we turned loose water from our storage dams it would never reach the Colorado river. Do you want us to deliver this water in tin cans?"

"You could not take water from the Gila river to meet a Mexico obligation even if you wanted to," said John Mason

HOOVER BACK IN WASHINGTON FROM FLORIDA

Arrives In Capital to Go to Work On His Cabinet and Address

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—President-elect Herbert Hoover arrived back in Washington at 1:17 p. m. today from his Florida fishing vacation, prepared to devote the two weeks before his inauguration on March 4 to rounding out his cabinet, revising his inaugural address and cleaning up routine details.

Only a handful of persons were at the station to greet Mr. Hoover when he arrived. He was met by Chairman Hubert Work of the Republican national committee and George Akerson, his personal secretary. A few personal friends of the Hoovers also were at the station.

A large detail of secret service men lined up at the train platform and in the station concourse. Two secret service cars accompanied the president-elect to his home.

It is characteristic of the man who is to become the next president that he arrives in Washington two weeks before his inauguration and that he obscures the purpose of his unprecedented entrance upon the scene this far in advance.

While he has made no announcement whatever, nor given any inkling about the reason for his return other than the vague and general statement that he would take up matters concerned with his administration, it is known that cabinet matters chiefly drew him away from the warm Florida sunshine.

Unmindful of the curiosity which is bothering many persons in Washington about his return, the president continued to work away on the final revision of his inaugural address in his private car. He kept three stenographers busy yesterday with his dictation. As with all his public utterances, he revises and revises, and the revision is, if anything, more meticulous with this speech than any other because it is his most important. He has consulted innumerable addresses from that of George Washington on down.

One reason for Mr. Hoover's return at this time grows from the anxiety over regular party organization leaders over reports indicating that the president-elect had passed over their ranks almost completely in selecting his cabinet.

He preferred to listen to these people in the seclusion of his own home in Washington rather than in Florida, where their visits would have been attended with publicity perhaps beyond their actual significance.

While every section of the city was being thoroughly scoured for some trace of the girl, or of her body, an intensive search also was underway for an elderly couple, reported to have been seen with a child answering Doris' description.

Mrs. Mabel Stuart told police an "elderly woman shabbily dressed" had asked her to buy a paper for her Monday night at a corner near where Doris disappeared.

"She appeared to be crippled," Mrs. Stuart said. "When I returned she was in an automobile. There was a man at the wheel and a bundle, which looked like a child, was beside them."

"The man read headlines and looked at the pictures of the missing baby. It looks like the kid, all right," he said, and then tore the papers up.

Mrs. Stuart said she asked the couple why they did not return the child to its mother.

"Maybe she's the mother, but this is my own child and why shouldn't I keep her?" Mrs. Stuart quoted the man as saying.

The man drew a revolver and ordered her away from the car, Mrs. Stuart said. She obtained the license number and police began a search for the automobile.

A taxi-cab driver reported driving an elderly man and woman and a child to the mission district of the city. He told police that when

Total Mineral Product Sixth In This State

Natural Gas Returns Large Sum of $3,000,000 to Various Producers

ORANGE county, with a total mineral production of $60,547,041, produced practically one-sixth of all the mineral wealth of California during 1928, it was revealed today. The state's total was $366,718,394, according to a detailed report just submitted to Governor Young by State Mineralogist Lloyd L. Root.

Petroleum accounted for the largest slice of the huge sum, the production being valued at $56,238,767. Natural gas was next, the value being $3,910,501. The actual amount of oil pumped from the wells of this county was 46,593,842 barrels, while the natural gas output was 50,981,982 cubic feet.

Miscellaneous stone products accounted for $325,676 of the county's mineral wealth production. The county produced $13,143 worth of brick, $39,354 worth of pottery made from clay, while miscellaneous other minerals accounted for the sum of $9600.

Orange county stands third in the value of its mineral production, being surpassed by Los Angeles and Kern, according to the state mineralogist's report. Los Angeles county, due to its oil, leads all the rest, being credited with 35 per cent of the entire state's total value for 1928.

In 1928 the value of the Orange county mineral production was $62,223,082. The drop in the 1927 figure is accounted for by the lower price of crude oil, which was one of the features of the report. The total petroleum value in the state decreased by $84,111,179 although there was an increase from 224,637,281 barrels to 231,195,774 barrels.

The report revealed that the total mineral wealth produced in Orange county between 1889 and 1927 was $501,032,548. In this total petroleum accounted for $474,251,589 and natural gas for $22,785,017. A total of 394,656,612 barrels of petroleum have been yielded by Orange county soil. Petroleum and natural gas production began in 1897. In figure in state records in 1897. In that year Orange county was credited with production of 12,000 barrels of oil valued at $12,000. Five years later, in 1902, the production had jumped to 1,103,793 barrels, valued at $24,492.

Natural gas did not begin to figure in the reports until 1912, when its value was recorded as $5250. In 1914 its value had jumped to $112,040.

Total value of stone produced, including crushed rock, stone and gravel, was placed at $2,674,914. This type of "mineral wealth" began to figure in the state report in 1908, when its value was placed at $3005.

Brick stands next in point of value, the total production having been $591,850. It is followed by miscellaneous minerals, which have brought a total of $59,617 into Orange county. Gold was the first mineral getting into the state report, appearing in 1898, when its value was $6262. The total value of all the gold produced in Orange county, according to figures in the report, was $33,883. The last year in which it appeared as an item was in 1926, when its value was $60. Other miscellaneous items appearing are coal, gypsum, sandstone, copper, lead, zinc, class

HARDY HEARING TO BE RESUMED ON THURSDAY

Aimee Expected In Sacramento Tomorrow to Give Her Testimony

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Another step toward final adoption of California's 4 per cent income tax on banks and business corporations was taken today when both houses of the state legislature passed the amendments proposed by the taxation committee.

None of the amendments vitally affected the tax bill, the majority being technical changes.

Opposition to the tax plan is expected to reach its climax tonight at a public hearing in the assembly chambers. At this time real estate dealers of California, seeking a 10 per cent offset on their realty holdings, will present their side of the case.

The legislature also passed an appropriation bill for $150,000 to meet a deficiency appropriation towards rebuilding a Chico state college building, destroyed by fire.

Although Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, is expected to arrive in Sacramento tomorrow, further hearings by the committee empowered to decide whether or not Superior Judge Carlos Hardy of Los Angeles shall be impeached, were postponed until Thursday.

Senator Will R. Sharkey of Martinez announced a joint meeting of the senate committee on motor vehicles and the assembly aviation committee late this afternoon, to consider the measures calling for state licensing and supervision of airplanes, air lines, pilots, landing fields and airplane schools.

Colonel Brandt, commander of Crissy field of San Francisco, and other aviation experts were to address the assembly concerning the federal government's attitude on these measures.

A fleet of 11 airplanes from Crissy field was expected to bring a delegation of air enthusiasts to the meeting.

P. E. CONTEMPLATES SALE OF ITS BUS LINES IN SANTA ANA

That the Pacific Electric Railway company contemplates sale of its franchise for bus lines in Santa Ana was revealed here last night when R. F. Roundtree of Los Angeles, appeared before the city council and requested a letter from the body indicating approval of the proposed transfer. Roundtree said he wished the letter to present to the railroad commission when application is made to the state body for transfer.

The request was denied, the council pointing out that it had received no official notice from the company that it proposed to sell its bus lines here. Members indicated clearly to the proposed purchaser that they would not oppose the transaction.

Roundtree said that it was possible he would take over operations by March 15. He gave assurance that he would continue the present service, including all local transfer privileges now obtaining.

Washington Solon Declares Members of Both Houses Do Not Drink to Excess

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—After four days of unusually frank debate over prohibition, the senate today passed the Jones bill increasing maximum penalties under the Volstead act to five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine. The bill now goes to the house where leaders say it will be passed speedily. It was amended to provide that federal court timeliness sentences distinguish between the casual violator and the professional bootlegger.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Prohibition conditions in Idaho, the home state of the dry champion, Senator Borah, worse than in wet New York, Senator Bruce, the Democrat of Maryland sought to say the senate today, resuming the three day forum dispute merits of the dry act.

Bruce read statistics to that in Idaho there are more arrests for liquor law violations than in New York. Some of them may take a drink now and then. I do not know."

Dill said there was nothing in the returns of the recent presidential election which would indicate the people of the nation have undergone a change of heart about prohibition. He attacked the Canadian system permitting light wines and beers which, he said, resulted in bootlegging of hard liquor.

Bruce's figures were designed to show that in proportion to population, prohibition agents had seized eight times as many distilleries

Grand Worthy Matron, Patron Honored At O. E. S. Meet

MORE THAN 400 IN ATTENDANCE AT S. A. SESSION

Attracting a crowd of from 400 to 500 members of the Order of Eastern Star, last night's meeting in Santa Ana Masonic temple, when four Orange county chapters constituted a hostess group to the grand worthy matron and patron, Mrs. Pauline House of Lodi, and Bert Richard Holloway, of Van Nuys, remains today in the minds of those present as an event of interest and hospitality that will be difficult to excel in the future.

The event was scheduled on the stated meeting night of Hermosa chapter, of which Mrs. Irene Mitchell and Alvin Nowotney are worthy matron and worthy patron. Santa Ana chapter, (with Mrs. Florence Wright and her husband, Walter Wright, as matron and patron) was officially delegated as host chapter, together with Chispa, of Anaheim, (Mrs. Pearl Kelley and William Houts, matron and patron) Seaside, of Huntington Beach, (Mrs. Marian Conrad and Edward Mosinger, matron and patron), and Hermosa chapters assisting.

Flowers Given Matrons
In advance of the opening, each of the four hostess matrons was presented with an arm cluster of beautiful flowers from her worthy patron and gifts of corsage bouquets awaited Mrs. House and Mrs. Martha Shinn, of Buena Park, Orange county's deputy grand matron.

For the ritualistic work of the order, the officers of the four chapters were elaborate white gowns, providing what one onlooking patron declared to be a "true fashion show." Santa Ana chapter exemplified opening and closing exercises, while balloting was conducted under the direction of Seaside staff and escort duty by Chispa staff. Hermosa officers conducted the initiatory degree, in which Mrs. Fred Young of Laguna Beach, and Clarence J. Smith of this city, were accepted into the chapter.

Visiting celebrities, who were made the subject for escort duty, included, in addition to Mrs. House and Mr. Holloway, the latter's wife, Mrs. Bert Richard Holloway, a past grand matron; Mrs. Myra Moyes, associate grand matron; Mrs. Elsie McGiffin, associate conductress; Mrs. Hazel Marsh Piper and Mrs. Lena Stannard, past grand matrons; Roy Grist, of San Diego, past grand patron; Mrs. Martha Shinn, of Buena Park, and Mrs. Irene Holton, of Long Beach, deputy grand matrons; Mrs. Boss Pierce and Mrs. Eva Boyd, past grand treasurers; a group of five 1929 worthy matrons from Long Beach chapters and present matrons and patrons of the county, including, in addition to those in the receiving line, Mrs. William Johnson, Yorba Linda; Mrs. Ben Gay, Garden Grove; Mrs. Walter Schultz and Carl Stein, of Anaheim chapter, and Mrs. Walter Smalley and Howard Hale, of Fullerton chapter.

Refreshments Served
At the conclusion of the ritualistic work, refreshments were served in the banquet room at tables brilliant with Valentine hearts and garlands. Committees from each of the four hostess orders arranged for the various features of the social hour.

A memorable feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome jewel chest to Mrs. House from the four hostess organizations, with Mrs. Conrad making a gracious little talk. Within the chest was concealed the remainder of the gift—four $5 gold pieces. Mr. Mossinger made a similar presentation talk in giving to Mr. Holloway a miniature chicken and egg, suggestive of the grand patron's chicken ranch. The egg proved to have a golden yolk when the recipient found a gift of gold pieces concealed in it. Mrs. Wright then presented Mrs. Holloway with a great cluster of red carnations.

$80,000 FIRE
SANTA ANA, Calif., Feb. 19.—(UP)—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the largest insecticide plant in this section with a loss of nearly $80,000 late yesterday. The eastern section of the city for a time was menaced by the flames. The plant, belonging to Jones and Yodanis, contained $25,000 worth of fumigation tents and $55,000 worth of equipment.

while anywhere. It's going down south and get some sunshine."

Scene number three is the chamber of the city council. The aldermen are meeting to act on a suggestion by state's attorney John A. Swanson that they set up a reward of $25,000 for the capture of the latest gang killers. Several of the aldermen walk over and shake hands with a dark-eyed carefully dressed alderman sitting in a center row.

"Welcome back," says one. "Glad to see you," says another. The dark-eyed alderman is Titus Haffa, from the 43rd ward. He was convicted in federal court recently as the head of a $5,000,000 liquor ring, sentenced to two years in Leavenworth and fined $11,000. He has decided not to resign and not to have his name taken off the ballot for re-election until the appeals court has decided whether his conviction was valid.

While those scenes are passing across the Chicago stage, an undisciplined police force spurs two squads and sends them to the west side to hunt for two men in a blue sedan who pointed a machine gun at a traffic policeman yesterday afternoon. The excitement attending the gang massacre seems not to have discouraged the class of citizens who cruise along the city streets armed with machine guns.

sand, silver, potash, barite and quicksilver.

A total of $4,824 tons of clay have been produced, being valued at $258,561.

California now mines as many different minerals as there are counties, the report disclosed. This state now boasts of 58 mineral substances, and all of the 38 counties contributed to the list.

Titanium, a new mineral, made its appearance for the first time in Los Angeles county during the period. The two deposits, in black beach sands of that county, are the largest in the United States. Quicksilver increased from 5892 flasks worth $516,382 to 6488 flasks worth $714,418. Copper decreased from 35,521,544 pounds worth $4,693,014 to 27,350,316 worth $3,582,885. Gold also decreased from $11,923,481 to $11,671,018, and silver from 2,922,460 fine ounces worth $1,263,015 to 1,520,242 fine ounces worth $918,877.

"California yields, commercially, a greater number and variety of mineral products than any state in the United States, and probably more than any other equal area elsewhere on earth," the report said. "The total annual value of her output has been surpassed by not more than four or five other states."

"The mineral industries, not only in California, but throughout the country, have reached quite a different phase from that of the old gold rush days more than 50 years ago. As quoted in a former report, the freight handled by railroads of the country show 51.33 per cent to be products of the mines.

"While gold, in California still leads the United States, is still important, other metals and even nonmetals have superseded it in value. The greatest commercial developments proportionately in California in recent years have taken place among the industrial and structural minerals.

"This introduces a new factor which requires study and attention—that of marketing. The gold miner could, and still does, take his metal to the mint and receives its equivalent in money, and he knows from day to day and year to year, how much each ounce of gold will bring. Marketing and competition, however, are vital factors in the industrial and structural groups."

Of the first 10 counties in California in point of total output, the first four, Los Angeles, Kern, Orange and Ventura, owe their position mainly to petroleum, as does also Fresno, the sixth, the report continued.

San Bernardino, fifth, owes its place chiefly to cement, silver, potash, borax, mineral water, and tungsten; Riverside, seventh, to cement, stone, brick and tile; Yuba, eighth, to gold; Santa Cruz, ninth, to cement; Plumas, tenth, to copper.

Twenty-four counties have each a total in excess of a million dollars. Cement is an important item in nine of these counties, gold in four, and miscellaneous stone, granite and soda in one each. In point of variety and diversity, San Bernardino county led all others, with a total of 23 different mineral products on its commercial list, followed by Los in Idaho as in New York; 27 times as many stills; 100 times as many still worms; and 8 times as many fermenters; twice as many smuggling boats; arrested twice as many offenders for violation of the Volstead act, and that arrests for drunkenness in Pontiac, Idaho, had been ten times as numerous as in the city of New York.

Senator Blaine, Repn., Wis., who supported Alfred E. Smith for president in the last campaign, declared prohibition "unworkable."

"Every nation in the world which has tried prohibition has abandoned it except the United States," he said. "We have not yet learned that we cannot legislate against nature and science.

"So long as fruit juices ferment and so long as men continue to want stimulants, this law will not be enforced."

Senator Reed, Repn., Penna., told the senate he had intended to vote against the Jones bill but would change his position if an amendment is adopted defining the intention of congress to provide for the heavier penalty only in cases of professional bootleggers.

Many other reports have been received by police, but have been given little credence. The theory that the little girl may have been the victim of a degenerate and has been slain has not entirely been abandoned.

The "elderly woman shabbily dressed" was also seen by Clara Bridges, a neighbor of the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Murphy, the afternoon she disappeared.

"I knew Doris well," Miss Bridges told police, "I saw her late Friday afternoon near the playground. There was an old woman with her, wearing a thread-bare brown coat.

"Doris ran to me and wanted to know if she could play with my dog. I started to tell her to wait until the next day when the woman grasped her arm and took her away."

Bandit, Reported Dead, Walks Into N. Y. Police Station

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 19.—(UP)—Authorities today were perplexed by the unusual situation in which Pat Crowe, western bandit, whom they believed to have committed suicide here yesterday, walked into police headquarters in New York last night and denied reports of his death.

The New York reports caused the police here to doubt their identification of the dead man as Pat Crowe, although four members of the detective bureau said they were almost certain the dead man was the famous kidnaper of Edward G. Cudaly.

Detective Chief John Riordan, who viewed the body, said he had been acquainted with Crowe for years and was certain the dead man was Crowe. Felt-lined shoes and bandages around the ankles, which police said Crowe had worn to support weak ankles, were found on the victim.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Premier Poincaré's government won by a narrow majority of six votes today in a vote of confidence on the judicial reform bill.

The chamber of deputies rejected the radicals counter-project on judicial reform by a vote of 291 to 285.

IRVINE LIBEL SUIT WILL BE TRIED IN S. A.

Mrs. Irvine named four young women who, she charged, were responsible for her husband's asserted straying from the home hearth.

The story also referred to a woman witness in the case whose testimony was said to have tended to show that a love making episode had taken place at the Irvine ranch home. In the newspaper story the witness is said to have mentioned a Miss Lucille Johnstonbaugh in connection with the supposed affair.

Irvine's complaint declared that these stories were calculated to damage his reputation and that he had suffered as a result of their publication.

The case was filed several months ago through the Santa Ana law firm of Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus. Counsel for the defendant newspaper, including the Santa Ana firm of Head, Wellington, Jacobs and Scovel, moved for a change of venue, which was denied by Judge Allen. They then appealed to the district court. So far the higher court has not ruled in the matter and counsel on both sides have agreed to proceed with trial of the case in Orange county. The case was set for trial yesterday by Judge Allen.

Truck Owners!

THE EXPERIENCE OF THOUSANDS OF OPERATORS DEFINITELY ASSURES YOU A SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTION IN YOUR TIRE COSTS FROM THE—

Firestone

PROPOSAL OF SERVICE

We have put tire service on a definite basis that will cut your costs to a new low level, as it is cutting the costs of thousands of other truck owners. First of all, we make a complete analysis of your truck or trucks. Before a single tire is applied, we check the weights, the distribution of the load on each wheel and each tire. We find out what the operating conditions are for each individual vehicle. We tabulate these findings, and with the aid of long experience in this work, determine the correct size and type of tire and rim necessary to give satisfactory service at the lowest cost per mile. This gives each vehicle the right start. From that time on, our service—day by day, week by week, month after month—makes tire economy a certainty.

Let us study your tire problems and demonstrate just what we mean when we say we can serve you better and save you money.

A WORD OF COMFORT

The amount of moral earnestness required for a grief-stricken soul to stand by his task without flinching, without complaining, without self-pity and without envy of others' happiness, is beyond computation. Only one made in the image of God could hope to accomplish it.

But God never leaves you alone. What He asks of his child and what He expects of him, He gives him the power to do. More than that; He shares in every experience.

It is a mistake to minimize the difficulty of your task; but it is disloyal to Him and to your best self to question your ability to learn clear duty and your high privilege.

The late Charles Carlson, of Orange, who died February 1, left an estate valued at $61,860, it was revealed today in a petition for admitting his will to probate. The petition was filed by Alice M. Cole, a daughter, who was named executrix in the will.

BODY IS FOUND LYING BESIDE CAR IN GARAGE

Believed to have been the victim of the deadly fumes of carbon monoxide gas generated through the exhaust pipe of his automobile, Edison M. Hendrickson, 32, employee of the California Packing corporation, was found dead at 4:30 a. m., today, in his garage at 822 South Van Ness street.

The discovery of the body was made by Arthur Jenkins, father of a girl employed at the home of Hendrickson, who was called when members of the family became suspicious at hearing the sound of a motor running in the garage.

Hendrickson had been dead for several hours when the body was found lying beside the car. The car's engine still was running and the garage doors were almost entirely closed.

Members of the family said today that Hendrickson went to Balboa last night to get extra parts for his automobile. The family was asleep when he returned and no one was awakened until shortly after 4 o'clock this morning, when Mrs. Hendrickson missed her husband and became alarmed.

She then heard the motor of the car running and called Mr. Jenkins.

A physician was called and he stated that Hendrickson had been dead three or four hours.

Members of the family today were of the opinion that death was accidental. Coroner Brown, however, will conduct an inquest over the body in the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors probably late this afternoon. Funeral services have been announced for 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Smith and Tuthill parlors.

Besides his widow, Hendrickson is survived by one daughter, Theda Hendrickson, 9, and by his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hendrickson, of 622 French street. Miss Esther Hendrickson, of the same address, is a sister.

Officers Dean and Nicholson made an investigation for the police department, turning the case over to the sheriff.

TERMITES GENERAL THROUGHOUT NATION

That California is no worse off than other warm states in respect to invasion of termites, or white ants, was declared in an address last night by A. L. Pickens, field biologist for the termite investigation committee of the University of California, who spoke to an audience in the Farm bureau offices here.

There are only five states in the country in which termites have not been reported, Pickens stated. He enumerated the various types found, told how they went about eating away wood in foundations and explained means whereby they could be treated.

The talk was arranged through County Horticultural Commissioner A. A. Brock.

Court Dismisses Meek Case Jury After Deadlock

Reporting at 11 p. m., that it had been unable to reach a verdict in the case of Bert Meek, charged with possession and manufacture of liquor, with prior convictions, a jury in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court was discharged and today the case had been reset for trial on March 5.

Meek was accused of making and having in his possession 110 gallons of intoxicating liquor. His trial began yesterday with Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodget appearing for the people and O. A. Jacobs representing Meek.

ORANGE COUNTY SCOUT MAY BE SENT ABROAD

Whether an effort will be made to send a boy from Orange county to represent the county council of Boy Scouts at the international jamboree in Arrow Park, Birkenhead, England, probably will be determined at a meeting of the executive committee of the Scout organization to be held at the headquarters at 4 p. m., tomorrow. It was announced today by George Walker, Scout executive.

Pointing out that this county never had been represented at an international jamboree of Scouts, Walker said that he would suggest that an attempt be made to raise a special fund for sending a representative. The cost is estimated at between $700 and $800. The jamboree will be held the latter part of July and the first few days of August.

"It would be a good piece of publicity for Orange county to have a representative present when the jamboree is held and I am inclined to believe that a number of persons in the county would be glad to make a contribution to a fund for sending a boy overseas," Walker said.

Friday, Frank L. Benepe, as master of ceremonies, will introduce Warde and also the Hon. Lee Mantle. In case of rain, the picnic will be postponed until Sunday, March 3, when it will be held in the same place.

RHAE FOUST, 23 YEARS OLD, BELIEVED TO BE YOUNGEST SHRINER IN ORANGE COUNTY

Is Rhae Foust, of 1113 South Main street, the youngest Shriner in Orange county?

His friends believe that he is and believe, furthermore, that he is without doubt the youngest in the Southland, since he took the Shrine at Al Malaikah temple, Los Angeles, on Dec. 17, 1928, when he was but 22 years old. He now is 23, having celebrated his birthday on Saturday, February 2.

Foust started in Masonry as soon as he reached his majority, affiliating with Silver Cord lodge. He immediately started on the other degrees, completing Blue lodge on June 12, 1928. The thirty-second degree, that "ultima thule" of all good Masons, followed in due course and on December 15, in Long Beach, the young man took that degree, the highest that may be attained by the average Mason, with the exception of the final and thirty-third degree, awarded only for outstanding distinguished service. There is but one thirty-third degree Mason in Orange county, Col. Henry C. Alkin, 422 South Birch street, a past imperial potentate of the Order of the Mystic Shrine.

Having completed his thirty-second degree work on December 15, Rhae Foust took the next possible step two days later, when he went to Los Angeles and was admitted to the charmed circle of the Mystic Shrine with the big December class of candidates.

Foust is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foust, 823 South Main street, and is associated with his father in business. He was married in mid-summer to Miss Julia Bragg, of Martin, Tenn., and the young people returned to Santa Ana by automobile, making the trip their honeymoon journey.

Christ," by the Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the Church of the Messiah, Seventh at Bush streets, will begin tomorrow night. These talks, it is stated, will hold a special interest for men. The rector has given much time and study to research work in ancient and modern histories and it is expected that a thrilling world picture of the men who were the chief actors in the greatest of world tragedies will be presented.

The charge against him reduced from driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor to reckless driving, A. L. Casteel, Santa Ana salesman, was fined $250 in Judge J. F. Talbot's police court yesterday.

He was arrested following an automobile accident, Sunday, when the car he was driving collided

His interest in Masonry has been an instinctive one, for the family traditions have been Masonic. The young man's great-grandfather, on the maternal side of the house, William Hall, of Kentucky, was one of the few thirty-second degree Masons in the United States of that day.

YOUNGEST SHRINER

'GOD'S LAW' IS TOPIC TAKEN BY RECTOR HATTER

The Church of the Messiah was filled to hear the opening of the Lenten sermon series preached by the rector, the Rev. W. J. Hatter, taking as his course for the Sunday morning sermon, "God's Law."

He preached on the principles and efficacy of the First and Second Commandments. There was an interesting introduction to the sermon when the speaker told his congregation how he received the inspiration to preach this course of sermons. After hearing a very fine and searching address by Sheriff Byers of San Diego County at the Kiwanis Luncheon, who asserted that crime was increasing and offered as an antidote three remedies, i. e., A Greater Religious Education, Better Home Life and a Definite Teaching of the Ten Commandments to the Children of the Land.

The rector brought out the need for this by taking briefly a retrospect of the last fifty years and the attendant city of worship. In spite of increased denominationalism and enumerated a catalogue of deities that are at present in vogue, Gods of Money, Pleasure, Pomp, Position and Intellect and then contrasted the command of Jehovah, "That Thou shalt have none other Gods than me," and suggested the real possibility that the recent violations that have come to the world in the form of war and pestilence were sent as disciplinary measures in order to awaken us to our responsibilities. The incident of Elijah on Mount Carmel was being re-enacted if the Lord be God let us follow and serve him, if not, let us banish Christianity, the most careless would not wish this and the congregation was urged to put God first in National Life, Political Life and Social Life, briefly this to get back to God.

Next Sunday the rector will preach on The Third Commandment.

HOW TO END CONSTIPATION

If you want to get rid of constipation for good, you must cleanse the liver of its stored-up bile, and set it to working right. Remember it's a torpid, lazy liver clogged with bile that keeps you constipated. This surplus bile poisons your whole system, causing headaches, bad breath, salivary skin, sour stomach, gas, indigestion, dizzy spells or other disagreeable symptoms.

All that an ordinary phlegm does is to force a bowel movement without getting at the liver. What you really need is a thorough internal cleansing with Plantax, which brings out the accumulated bile and other foul secretions. Plantax is a most effective liver tonic compounded from the juices of extracts of harmless plants—remedies from Nature's own laboratory. It acts in a gentle, easy way—no irritation or weakening of the organs. Large bottle $1. On sale at all good drug stores. Always in stock at White Cross Pharmacy.—Adv.

BEACH RESIDENCE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

The Thomas Baffa residence in Newport Heights was destroyed by fire Saturday night. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Firemen of Newport Beach and Costa Mesa were called, but due to inadequate water connections were unable to combat the flames. Baffa was at the home of a friend at the time of the fire. The property was built by Leonard Swales, of Santa Ana, 10 years ago.

HIGH SCHOOL AND JAYSEE NOTES

Miss Bertha Briney, secretary for city school supervisors, has been added to the present staff of the commercial department of the junior college and high school with the instruction of two classes in beginning typing, the enrollment in commercial subjects having increased with the opening of the new semester. Miss Briney formerly was an instructor for four years in the Francis Willard junior high school.

Circulars from the University of Redlands were received recently at the junior college, announcing the annual intercollegiate anthology contest to be held in California under the direction of the Redlands chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, professional English fraternity. This year's contest will mark the second competition in the writing of anthology. Entitled "First the Blade," the anthology will be written and edited entirely by students. Any student regularly enrolled in a California college or junior college is eligible to enter the competition. The editor school for the year 1928-1929 is the University of Redlands.

Santa Ana high school today had elected officers as follows: Stanley Hardin, president; Kenneth Manderscheid, vice president; James Hall, secretary-treasurer; senior representative, Thomas Cone; junior representative, Norman Paul; sophomore representative, Ralph Gardon.

Offering a new printing course to a limited number of students, Thomas E. Williams, printing instructor at the Santa Ana high school, has given the latest in school curriculum. The course is primarily for journalism students aspiring to be newspaper workers in later life. The course deals with the print shop end of the newspaper, with special reference to the operations and processes of the paper.

Work is progressing rapidly on the 1929 Ariel, high school yearbook, according to the staff heads of the school publication. The art department is busily employed in putting artistic touches on the book. More elaborate work and details will be embodied in the Ariel than ever before, according to the art staff.

WHAT COUNCIL DID DELAY ACTION ON PETITION TO OPEN FLOWER

The city council last night continued for consideration the petition filed last week asking the opening of Flower street from Fifth to Eighth. No action was taken on the proposal for widening the street south of Seventeenth.

A large group of property owners on the street met with the council at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Charles Heinrich home, at Washington and Flower, for discussion of the project.

The street is 60 feet wide from the north city limits to Santa Clara avenue, 30 feet from Santa Clara to Seventeenth, 50 feet from Seventeenth to Eighth, closed between Eighth and Fifth and 60 feet from Fifth south to Edinger.

Property owners were divided in their opinion as to whether the street should be widened throughout to 80 feet, left in its present status or widened to 60 feet throughout. Paving of a 56-foot width has been suggested for that section which is 80 feet wide, but property owners there are opposed to this width unless the street is extended south to Newport boulevard and made a uniform width of 80 feet. They are agreeable to paving 40 feet under the present status of the street.

The street is unpaved between Seventeenth and Washington and between Washington and Eighth the pavement is 33 feet. South of Fifth street the pavement is 40 feet. Harmonizing of all interests is one of the big problems of the council and this is conceded to be almost impossible. It is the opinion of supporters of the 80-foot avenue that Flower street is to become one of the principal north and south arteries through the city.

One of the most serious obstacles to the wider street, probably, is the situation between Washington avenue and Eighth streets. Many lots on the street have a depth of only 75 feet, it is said, and it is admitted that taking 15 feet on each side, necessary to reach the 80-foot width, would amount virtually to confiscation of such properties. A large number of houses would have to be moved. Even to make the paved section of this portion of the street 40 feet wide it would be necessary to do away with the tree parking area between the curb and the sidewalk.

In discussing the opening of the three blocks, councilmen expressed the opinion that the cost to the individual would be small if the expense were distributed over the full length of the street.

TO ASK RAIL COMMISSION FOR PERMIT TO CONSTRUCT SUBWAY ON FOURTH STREET

The city council last night directed City Attorney C. D. Swanner to make application to the railroad commission for permission to construct a subway under the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe tracks on East Fourth street.

Plans and specifications have been completed by City Engineer Clyde Jenken and indications pointed to completion of all arrangements for construction of the underground passage under the district assessment plan.

A. W. Gerrard, a member of the East Santa Ana Improvement association, did the unusual when he addressed the council, expressing the appreciation and satisfaction of the association with the manner in which the governing body and officials had handled the project for the subway. Gerrard said the plans also met with the approval of the association.

"Thanks for the expression of appreciation, for we seldom get words of praise from our constituents," chorused the five members of the council when Gerrard had completed.

Persons in order to get results and the clause was retained.

The city building inspector was authorized to grant A. G. Diehl a permit to add a sleeping room to a combination store room and residence at the corner of Bishop and Van Ness.

Permission was given B. J. Chandler to install a gasoline tank for private use at his residence, 1121 West Seventeenth street, and to the Haven Seed company for installation of a gasoline tank at its place of business on Edinger street.

The council and planning commission will hold a joint hearing two weeks from last night on the application of R. C. Snow for permission to erect a duplex at 1515 Spurgeon street.

Appointment of Frank Champion to the police force was approved. Adoption was made of a resolution declaring intention of the city to order the paving of Sycamore street, between Washington avenue and Seventeenth street. The city has just acquired jurisdiction and will open the street between the two points.

A warrant for $300 was ordered drawn in favor of City Attorney C. D. Swanner for expenses in connection with proceedings for the widening of East First street between Main and the Santa Fe company's railway tracks.

Short Talk by a Thoughtful Mother
A California (Long Beach) Mother speaks: "Only a mother who has passed through anxious nights of fear of croup, hearing that hoarse, croupy cough constantly, can appreciate our feeling of gratitude toward Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It stopped Junior's dreadful cough the first night he took it and it was a great relief to see him drop into a quiet sleep." Good also for whooping cough, measles cough and heavy, wheezy breathing. WHAT WE FIND IN Colonic Flushes

After having had several colonic treatments a patient found, to her delight, that a hardened mass of feces from over the appendix, supposedly a tumor on the right ovary, had been washed away.

A man who was referred to us by his family physician was very happy when we washed from the SEMI-LUNAR FOLDS OF THE COLON a number of unbroken watermelon seeds. He assured us he had eaten no melon for at least six weeks.

FACTS

The above facts are given to show the need and the possibility of COLONIC FLUSHES, and that pills, enemas and adjustments, ALONE, are not sufficient to dislodge such as we find in the pockets and folds of the colon. Appendicitis and chronic ailments have truly met their "WATERLOO."

New Lighting System Proposed For Beach City

PETITION MAY BE CIRCULATED, COUNCIL TOLD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 19.—Possibility of a new lighting on Main street to take the place of the present gas lighting, looked at last night's council meeting after a report was submitted by City Engineer Merwin Rosson, stating that the average maintenance per lamp for the 50 lights on the street was $7 per month.

The council declined to take any action on the system at present. A petition may be circulated in favor of the system, councilmen were told. According to Rosson, the cost of 58 lights would be between $25,000 and $28,000. It was voted to repair the gas line on Main street between Palm and Fourteenth immediately. Gas is said to be escaping in this district.

The Superior Oil company was denied the right to drain oil field waste water into the Seventeenth street storm drain. The city clerk was instructed to draw up a resolution providing for bus stops on Ocean boulevard and school bus stops.

The adoption of the uniform building code was deferred pending a thorough study of the other codes.

Action on the derrick guying ordinance was deferred until the next meeting. This ordinance provides uniform requirements in the guying of all wooden rigs.

A letter was read from the Rev. John Barnhart stating that the oil rig near his property is now safely guyed and commending Rosson on his prompt action.

City Attorney Lew Blodget reported that Helen Darst, widow of a Huntington Beach city patrolman who was killed in an automobile accident here recently, had been given $5000 by the state.

A license was issued to M. Kel-

C. OF C. DENIES STAND MADE ON FLOOD CONTROL

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 19.—Newport Beach organizations have not taken a stand against the proposed county flood control district bond issue, it was declared today by the legislative committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce. Members of this committee, which is composed of E. B. Whitson, chairman; J. P. Greeley, Lew H. Wallace and George C. MacLeod, today issued the following statement:

"No stand, for or against, the Orange County flood control bond issue, has been taken by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, nor by any other organization in the Newport harbor district of which we are aware.

"This is for the simple and obvious reason that there is not yet any such issue before the people of the county. It would be inopportune for us or anybody else to come out for a bond issue until something is known about it.

"The past record of the Newport harbor district on bond issues and all other county-wide movements, we feel certain, good enough to show that this district has held up its own end, to say the least.

"The reason why this chamber, and every other organization of every kind in the county, has so far refrained from expressing any sentiments about the flood control bonds is the same as one we are putting forth or our harbor district bill, senate bill No. 5. That is that there is no bond issue up.

"The harbor district bill is simply a means whereby at some future date, the people of the proposed harbor district (the county) may have the opportunity of voting for or against bonds.

"The people of the harbor district could have most effectively opposed the flood control act two years ago. They might have at that time opposed its endorsement by various organizations in this county and its passage in the legislature because of the provision that a majority vote will carry a bond issue.

"However, whatever opposition was shown at that time to the flood control bill apparently came from other parts of the county. Many have since stated that they did not know until after the flood control bill became a law that it contained a majority-vote clause. Senator Edwards is one of these.

"All talk about how much money is to be spent on the harbor is at present out of order, we submit. When a bond issue comes up, if one ever does, will be time enough to talk about that. But any harbor bond money will have to be voted by the entire district (the county), and under the sole supervision of two bodies from the entire county, the supervisors and the harbor commission. Newport Beach will have nothing to do about it.

"The only question at issue now is whether this bill should pass, so that this county may be in the same position as Ventura county in this respect. Whether any bond issue is ever voted will still have to be decided."

KIWANIS CLUB TOLD LINCOLN FACTS MONDAY

FULLERTON, Feb. 19.—The subject of Lincoln as a world statesman was presented to the members of the Fullerton Kiwanis club in McFarland's cafe yesterday, when R. Fred Chambers, of Santa Ana, formerly professor of history in an eastern college, gave a sketch of the life of the great emancipator. R. Hubert Biggs was chairman of the day and introduced the speaker.

Showing the attitude of foreign nations toward Lincoln, the speaker quoted statements made by various statesmen and diplomats concerning their dealings with Lincoln and the American government during his administration.

That people are showing more respect and appreciation of the true character of the man was expressed by the speaker, who declared that today Lincoln is considered one of the great men of all ages by Europe as well as by America.

A series of committee reports will be given at the next meeting, it was announced by President Ted Corcoran.

BOOZE DUMPING PARTY STAGED BY S. A. POLICE

To make room for new lockers being installed in the police station in the city hall today, Chief of Police Claude Rogers and a number of patrolmen yesterday dumped more than 125 gallons of wine, whiskey and other liquors in the sewer in the basement of the building.

The liquor represented the findings of police officers in a score of more raids conducted during the last several months.

Little of the confiscated liquor was "good" liquor.

Included in the stored liquor was a bottle of "Original Old Kentucky Mystery Shavings," picked up in one of the raids. It cost its original owner $1.25 and contained shavings from the inside of a whiskey barrel, used by bootleggers, officers said, to give their home made brand a "bourbon" flavor.

ANOTHER WOMAN IS MENTIONED IN SUIT

Declaring that the alleged infatuation of her husband for another woman had become common knowledge in Erea, where they reside, Mrs. Clara E. Lee today had brought suit for divorce against R. C. Lee, oil worker.

For the last six months Lee has been away from home between 11 p. m. and 3 or 4 a. m., almost every night, the complaint said.

In the summer of 1928, while Mrs. Lee was visiting her mother in Oregon, Lee was intimate with another woman and went out on numerous booze parties, the complaint asserted. Last October he told Mrs. Lee that he loved another woman, she declared. The complaint stated that they were married in 1920, in San Diego, and that they had separated on February 1.

COMMISSIONS IN REALTY DEAL BASIS OF SUIT

Real estate commissions on the sale of property valued at $150,000 were the center of attention Monday in a lawsuit which began in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court. A. F. Walker is seeking judgment for $5,883.33 from W. M. Hunt and S. A. Salvason, of Fullerton, claiming that this amount is due him for his part in the sale of the $150,000 property.

According to his complaint, the defendants collected $25,000 commission and had agreed that Walker, as an employee under an agreement with them, was to have one-third of the commission from the sale of the land. Walker brought suit in superior court some time ago on the same deal and the matter was settled with the payment of $2500 to Walker. According to the complaint in the present case, the defendants told him that they had received only $7500 commission, of which his payment was one-third.

Subsequently, however, Walker claims to have discovered that Salvason and Hunt actually received $25,000 commission and he now is seeking to collect enough to bring him one-third of that amount. Walker is represented by William Waters, while Hunt and Salvason are represented by G. K. Scovel.

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

After the excitement of the gold rush in California, people began to realize that the future prosperity of the country could not be based on mineral wealth. This was too transitory and capricious. It was at this time that George Chaffey played so important a part in its development along more stable lines. J. A. Alexander tells this fascinating story in "The Life of George Chaffey."

The conquest of arid spaces is never easy. The account of these achievements is the tale of many hardships, but also of glorious success. George Chaffey became one of the master irrigation engineers of western America. As president and manager of the California Development Company, he built the canal from the Colorado river to the desert, in the face of superhuman difficulties, and irrigated the Imperial Valley, which he named. In later years as president of the Whittier Water Company, he brought water to the La Habra valley which now contains some of the highest priced horticultural land in the world. In the early eighties he organized the Los Angeles Electric Light company, making that city the first in America, if not in the world, to be lighted exclusively by electricity.

Scientific Irrigation
Mr. Chaffey was also the founder of scientific irrigation in Australia, and the colonies of India and Denmark are still used as the object lessons for Australian irrigation systems.

In his work in California and Australia, he has been a gifted being who caused the desert to blossom. As an old man of eighty years he can look back upon dreams which he has fulfilled. Like Moses he struck the rock and the life giving streams gushed forth. Where there had been wild wastes, now appeared life of all kinds. The second golden age of California had begun—an age of more abundant and lasting gold than that of the metallic era which preceded it. We who enjoy its advantages feel a spirit of reverence as we pay gratitude to this man who more than any other was responsible for it.

Probably no one has had more damaging things said about her than Mary Todd Lincoln. Most of the failures in her husband's career were attributed to her. It is generally conceded that the domestic life of the two was unhappy.

Her niece, Katherine Talm, in "Mary, Wife of Lincoln," has come to the defense of Mrs. Lincoln. She is seen to be a loyal and devoted wife with a genuine admiration for her husband. Being of a cheerful, even gay disposition, she did much to lighten his habitual deep melancholy. She tried to fill his life with comforts, which he would otherwise have lacked. He was careless about his health, and she tried to guard him in this matter. His meals were made dainty and wholesome.

She was a real companion for him in things of the mind. Her reading was wide and varied. The part she was enabled to take in literary and political matters was not a meager one. In fact, her husband always had a keen admiration for her intelligence. In mental training and accomplishments she was quite equal to her position and more than the equal of many who have occupied it.

Much Maligned Lady
This defense of a much maligned lady is based on authentic data such as the recollections of Mary Lincoln's sister, Emilie; extracts from her war-time diary, and numerous letters. Such a sympathetic treatment as this, not only makes us feel more kindly toward Mrs. Lincoln, but gives a deeper insight into the character of her husband. When we close this book we feel a deep respect and friendship for both of them. It is always interesting and instructive to see ourselves as others see us. When that other is as clever a person as Beverly Nichols, we are more than ordinarily challenged. In "The Star Spangled Banner," he tells us of the idiosyncrasies of prominent Americans in particular and of all of us in general.

It was with almost an agony of anticipation that he prepared to meet Richard Halliburton for the first time. For this young romancer had told him that he was "the Beverly Nichols of America." Even before the meeting, however, the Englishman decided that he was after all unique—by reading a portion of "The Royal Road to Romance."

He visited Big Bill Thompson for the purpose of discovering just what this mayor believes that England is plotting against the United States. Lindbergh was seen by him as the American Prince of Wales. After an interview with Mr. Sumner, the Suppressor in Chief of the New York Society for the Suppression of Vice, he went in search of it (vice) on his own. He writes most entertainingly about what he found.

Is Very Readable
In spite of the many books written on a similar theme, Beverly Nichols manages to be very readable. In his charmingly cynical way, he laughs at us, sympathizes with us, taunts us. Through his eyes we see with renewed force some of the less attractive side of our life—our murder trials, prize fights, divorces. Above all this likeable young Englishman had given us a kindred feeling for the country that fostered him. His unbiased views of

"Voila! reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet—the trim figure is always fashionable. Advertisements that I saw when I recently arrived in America, said: 'The best way for sugar to be eaten is as a flavor of foods'. They are quite correct in cautioning a modified use of sugar. Sweets to excess are bad. I advocate a few puffs of the Lucky Strike toasted flavor when sweets tempt."

"I may add that I smoke Lucky Strikes myself, and I think they have contributed much to the state of mind which has helped me to create my greatest successes."

"Lucky Strikes are certainly an inspiration!"

BALLYHOO ENDS IN ROW OF MANAGERS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 19.—What started out to be some harmless ballyhoo for the forthcoming Sharkey-Stribling fight developed today into a tidy little row between the managers of the rival heavy-weight contenders.

The question of who is to act as referee at the bout was the subject of another heated conference, and out of a welter of words, one thing became clear. The name of the man who eventually will be chosen as referee has not yet been made public. The Striblings will not accept either of the Bostonians named by the Massachusetts boxing commission, and that, "Pa" says, is that. Johnny Buckley, voluble manager of Jack Sharkey, insisted to the United Press today that his contract specified that if the opposing faction were unable to agree upon a referee the Massachusetts commission should name the third man in the ring.

OUT OF THE PAST

Long skirts were not in style when Johnny Kilbane took his wife and infant daughter to Atlantic City to spend some of the money he was just beginning to earn as the world's featherweight champion. Mrs. Kilbane was outfitted by Cleveland's finest modistes, but Johnny's tailor didn't do so well by him.

"That fellow sold me a sucker suit," Kilbane said recently when he was shown the above picture. "He must have held about five yards of the coat in the back while I was looking at the front. It felt like a bath robe when I put it on, but the sports were dressing in loose clothes then."

Kilbane, who has retired, still lives in Cleveland.

No Question About It, Here Is "The World's Greatest Tire"

Some people have funny ideas.

They think the way to get the most tire for their money is to hunt up the cheapest tire in town.

Honestly, now, haven't you been tempted to buy a tire like that?

Our idea of the tire business is that you have to deliver the goods.

We don't know any way to keep our customers except this: satisfy them.

It takes good tires to satisfy the people who trade with us.

That's why we sell Goodyear Tires.

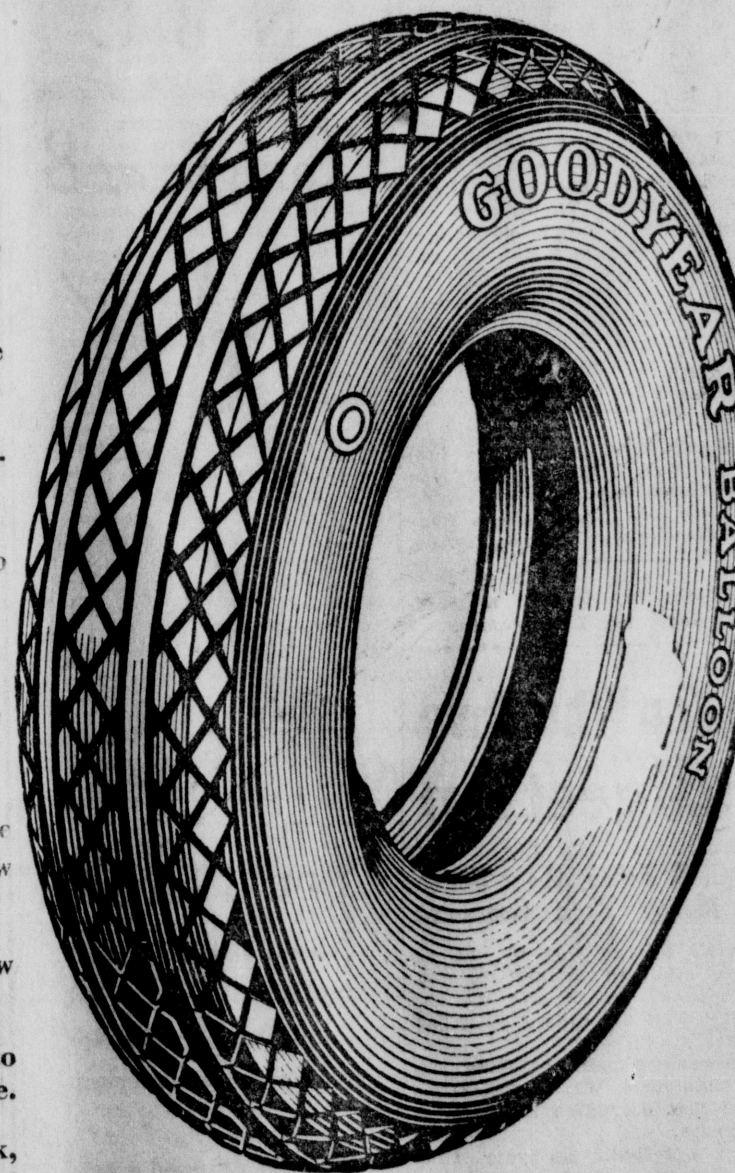

We have been in the tire business long enough to know exactly the difference in tires.

But until Goodyear brought out this new-type All-Weather Tread Balloon we didn't know how good a tire really could be!

Just to look at this new-type tire is to know it is better.

But wait! Wait until you have a chance to learn the things that make it a better tire.

Wait until you have examined the thick, tough tread; felt the sharp, diamond-shaped blocks; noted the two ribs so placed that they protect the tire at the point of greatest wear.

Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tires
Balloons or High Pressure; All Sizes

FREE

Authorized Goodyear Service. It is our business to see that after you buy a Goodyear Tire you are thoroughly satisfied. We keep it running! You get free inflation and inspection at regular intervals—just as often as you like. We keep a close lookout for accidental damage or undue wear. In the case of mishap or accident, we make quick, thorough repairs at low cost. Not until the tire is worn out, and you are satisfied, do we regard the sale "closed."

And, then, when you first drive a car on these exceptional tires, just feel the wheels grip, seize and hang on the road.

Feel the brakes take hold—firmly, surely.

Feel the security on speed on curves and unfavorable roads.

The "cupping" or "potholing" of ordinary balloon tires is eliminated by this new Goodyear Balloon. You're sure to get longer mileage.

Economy—safety—appearance—quiet-running. We say, with Goodyear, this is truly "The World's Greatest Tire."

It is the tire you want!

Another one of those high-powered Orpheum programs coming up tonight, folks. The hour is 11 and the performers will be Ethel Waters, the exceptional Negro entertainer; Johnny Burke, the screen comedian; Grace Hayes, Neville Flesson, Clara Howard, Eddie Foy Jr., Pettio and others.

Paul Whiteman's orchestra will push the strains of George Gershwin's famous 'Rhapsody in Blue' over the Columbia network tonight and the music shall come gushing from KPLA at 6 o'clock.

THE NEW VOICE OF THE SKIES

While the listeners chuckle over their farcical mishaps, "Jonesey and Mabel" will experience a new series of difficulties in the program which will be broadcast through NBC System stations from 8 to 8:30 tonight with KFI rebroadcasting.

This young couple, married only a few weeks ago, is just becoming adjusted to life in a new home. Situations are continually arising which, although amusing to the listener, are not quite so humorous to "Jonesey and Mabel." The majority of their predicaments are due to apparently trivial causes. Their next-door-neighbor, aptly called "Rodney the Rescue," is usually on hand to help the newlyweds settle their difficulties.

Red Fox Returns $407,222.47 To Its Member Growers

MERGES TODAY WITH HEIGHTS CITRUS HOUSE

ORANGE, Feb. 19. — Although shipments in 1928 totaled but 66 per cent of those of the year previous, the Red Fox Orchards association returned to growers of the organization $407,222.47, or 95 per cent of the returns of 1927, which were $427,998.41.

The Red Fox Orchards association, which today will merge with the McPherson association at a joint meeting at the McPherson plant, has an acreage of 1595 acres. During the last year, 1200 packed boxes of grapefruit and 1200 packed boxes of navel oranges were shipped in addition to the Valencia crop.

In the annual report given today by E. B. Collier, manager of the association, it was revealed that a marked increase of shipments each month with the exception of May. While sizes in 1928 were large it was shown that the fruit was badly wind-scarred, coarse and off-color and the high prices obtained were partially due to the extensive advertising campaign conducted by the advertising department of the California Fruit Growers' exchange.

Other contributing factors to the high returns received for the short crop, according to the manager's statement, was the efficient distribution of crops by the California Fruit exchange and the Orange County Fruit exchange. Thanks were extended by the manager to the two organizations in behalf of the stockholders. The exchange maintained, the manager said, a pro rata for each packing plant, thereby preventing an over-supply of fruit in the market at any time during the season.

During the season, Collier said, the placing of 47,614 juice extractors by the exchange in all parts of the world had stimulated the sale of oranges so that the Red Fox, in common with other exchange houses, had shared from the benefits of the 6000 cars of citrus fruits which had been sold for this purpose and which carried for the fruit of off sizes and lower grades. The sale of 185,540 glass extractors had encouraged the use of orange juice in the home. Beside these articles 13,000 junior electric extractors had been put into homes of the world.

The Red Fox Orchards returned their refund to the growers of the association in December.

"While the National Orange show in San Bernardino this year is surpassing any former show in interest and attractiveness, the attendance also is shattering all former records," states A. M. Thomas, Santa Ana agent for Motor Transit Stages.

"In addition to the low stage fares offered, Motor Transit Stages have made special arrangements with the Orange show officials whereby our patrons may purchase regular admission tickets to the show at reduced rates when purchased in conjunction with their transportation."

In order to further accommodate the patrons of the company, Motor Transit Stages have announced extra service from Long Beach via Santa Ana and Riverside to the Orange show, leaving here at 8:10 a. m., in addition to the regular service.

WILLIAM ROACH NAMED HEAD OF JAYSEE FIESTA

That William Roach will fill the position of chairman of the Fiesta committee of the junior college and become leader in the staging of the 1929 Fiesta was made known yesterday afternoon, when the executive board of the college met. With the chairmanship bestowed upon him, Roach will become responsible for the carrying out of one of the cherished traditions of the college.

Appointment of Roach to the position came after consultation between T. H. Glenn, faculty chairman for the Fiesta, and Willard White, president of the Associated Students. Roach has been noted for his fund of original ideas, his responsibility in carrying out tasks assigned to him and his ability to work with other students. He recently received appointment to the position of commissioner of forensics with an automatic membership on the executive board.

This will mark the second year that the college has held a Fiesta on the college campus. The event of last year, held in May, was carried out under the leadership of John Fitts, who carried the occasion to heights of success although his first year was an experience. Three days were devoted to the Fiesta last year, the first day being confined to college students, the second an open house day to seniors of Orange county high schools and the third day marking a climax dance in the evening. A king and queen are crowned on the opening day to reign as Don and Dona during the course of the Fiesta.

YOUTH EXONERATED OF GASOLINE THEFT

Complete exoneration from a petty theft charge was revealed yesterday for Henry Robles, 16, who was brought into Justice Kenneth Morrison's court here recently charged with having stolen gasoline. He was certified to the juvenile court.

The court found that the charges were unfounded and that young Robles was not guilty of the alleged theft. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Robles, 1115 East Second street, Santa Ana.

It was found that he had acted under instructions in taking gasoline from a car and had used the fluid in carrying out orders to clean the gears of the machine.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

HANSEN, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Walter Bitner gave a surprise birthday party recently for her son, Walter Bitner Jr., on his fifth birthday. The decorations and table favors were red and white. Mrs. Bitner served cake, ice cream and candy. She was assisted by Mrs. Gladys Nordstrom, Mrs. Emilie Doody, Mrs. George Kitchen and her sister, Mrs. Lillian Neubaur. The children there were Renette and Leland Hansen, George Shearer, Georgina Nordstrom, Mary and Frank Miser, Bobbie Shearer and two children of Mrs. George Kitchen.

NON-SKID HOT DOG

Thomas A. Edison, the great inventor, is near retirement, but we still have with us the Boyd brothers of Cleveland (R. L. left, and J. M., right). Never heard of them before? Neither did we until the other day, when they invented a non-skid hot dog which lies flat on the bread, just like a slice of ham. Now your difficulty in keeping round hot dogs from rolling right off the roll has been solved—the roll has been taken out of the hot dog, beg pardon, we mean the skid.

SANTA FE RY. CHARGED WITH USURPING ROAD

Charging that the Santa Fe railroad had usurped half of a public street in Serra and had moved its tracks onto the public highway without paying or offering to pay property owners for damage done to their property rights, a group of land owners Monday brought suit against the company in superior court here and demanded damages for the act.

By placing the line on Santa Fe avenue, the railroad company has destroyed the view of the ocean through raising the grade 18 to 20 feet above the grade 18 to 20 feet above the roadway, the complaints stated. Furthermore the change has prevented easy ingress and egress from the property affected, the complaints declared.

Plaintiffs in the three cases launched are Ruth E. Stewart, L. Deach, Henry A. Stewart, Virginia Ruth Stewart and Malcolm D. Stewart. The latter three are minors and brought suit against the railroad company through Ruth Stewart. In each of the three cases $2500 damages are asked.

The cases were launched through two Santa Ana law firms, Head, Wellington, Jacobs and Scovel and Rutan and Mize.

EDWARD TOMLINSON TALKS TO EBELL ON "SOUTH AMERICA"

"To most of us in the United States, life in South America is a combination of sentimental love affairs and bloody revolutions. In reality it is vastly different, with the most cosmopolitan cities that you will find anywhere—cities where the world and his wife may be met in a casual stroll down admirably beautiful streets," declared Edward Tomlinson, "specialist" in South American affairs, who yesterday held a large audience of Ebell society members in almost breathless interest, as he eradicated their old beliefs of the great country to the south of us, and gave them an entirely new set of beliefs.

It was a vivid word picture which the young enthusiast painted of the country where he has spent the past five years in a study of political and economic conditions, and his lecture on "What South America Means to Us," brought many facts home to the minds of his hearers, that were quite as new as they were interesting. In pointing out the country's meaning to our national economic life, he emphasized the fact that the United States, from its former position of supplier of raw materials, has changed to a manufacturing nation, and was not even self-sustaining, but on the contrary must look to some other country for raw materials.

"No nation can live to itself either economically or otherwise," he commented, as he pointed out the possible countries where our manufactured products might be exchanged for their raw materials. Russia's vast granaries were cited, but with Germany, one of the foremost manufacturing nations of modern times right across the border, it would be useless for the United States to look to Russia as a source of future supplies. The same thing applies to China, for it will be Japan who will seek to develop those natural resources. "India not only is so thoroughly under English rule as to be a negligible factor, but the entire country is preaching the solidification of the eastern peoples against western exploitation," he explained. "Africa is divided up between too many nations. Hence if we are to maintain this present so-called 'Cordillera prosperity' we must secure these needed raw materials and at the same time find a market for ten per cent of our out-put in manufactured goods.

"It is not easy to compete with Europe, where our trade has steadily diminished in the past 30 years. There is but one logical solution to the problem, and that solution lies in the ten republics of South America, for speaking in terms of population, not area, we have the greatest potential market for all our out-put, and a vast and practically untouched source of supplies in raw materials."

Mr. Tomlinson merely touched upon the Latin countries of Pan-America, explaining that formerly the United States made her chief investments there, increased interest and increased investments in South America had come as a result of the World War, he pointed out, and did not come through any ingenuity of North American business men, but as a gift handed us "by South America on a silver salver."

This rapid increase in investments there since the World War, has proven it a profitable field, and was undoubtedly one of the reasons prompting Herbert Hoover's recent "good-will" visit, according to opinions expressed by the speaker. He pointed out the insatiable value of such a trip, undertaken as it was, by one who while president-elect of the United States, made the visit purely as a private citizen, by declaring in newspaper parlance, that "it put South America on the front page in North America and put North America on the front page in South America." In other words, the speaker pointed out that in this country, when we speak or think of foreign countries, whether for travel, beauty, culture or investments, we think in terms of Europe, and Hoover's trip brought to our minds the fabulous field of opportunity in a marvelous country nearer home and much easier of access.

In bringing his enlightening address to a close, this cosmopolitan young man paused to shatter a few idols when he spoke of the Monroe Doctrine as being out-of-date. "There is no doubt but that South America appreciated the Monroe Doctrine (which wasn't a doctrine at all) in its early history, when it was a child among nations, but as a youth advanced from childhood into manhood, and resents a guardian—especially a guardian with a "Big Stick," so South America of today, having reached an age of maturity, resents that protective attitude. The day has come when we should greet her as a sister republic, not as an underling. Relations between nations will be more promising when nation treats nation as man treats man."

Mrs. A. L. Berkland Complimented

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Groomer entertained a group of friends at dinner Sunday in honor of Mrs. A. L. Berkland whose birthday anniversary it was. Pretty spring flowers centered the table and place cards were in the same bright colors.

Pioneer Residents Are Honored By Members Of M. E. Church

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Cole of Greenville who are the oldest pioneer residents of that district were surprised Sunday when they attended the First Methodist Episcopal church, South, in that place to find that the services had been dedicated to them in honor of the fact that they have just recently celebrated their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary.

And following the service they were even more surprised to learn that members of the congregation had planned a pot-luck dinner to be held in the parish rooms following the service in their honor. Tables were decorated with tall, lighted candles and many baskets of the loveliest spring flowers to be found in the gardens of their many friends of that church.

Of special interest was the large anniversary cake that had been made for the occasion by Miss Ethel Shiffer.

A touching and appropriate tribute was paid the honored guests by the pastor of the church, Dr. L. S. Lyon, who told of the prominent part Mr. and Mrs. Cole have always taken in activities of the church. He stated that Mrs. Cole is the only remaining charter member of the church.

The Rev. J. J. Woodson, Colton, who was formerly pastor of the Greenville church, was present for the occasion and he gave a beautiful picture of the places occupied in the community by Mr. and Mrs. Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole were married February 9 at Downey and they made their home in Greenville, known at that time as Old Newport, where they have lived ever since.

Mrs. Stinson will direct the making of these wigs at an informal meeting in her establishment, the Hair Grow shop, tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Outing The majestic snow-capped slope of old Mount Baldy was the setting for a pleasant day's outing for members of the Young Married Peoples class of the First Christian church, Sunday, A. W. Gerrard, class teacher, and Mrs. Gerrard had invited the members, their families and several friends to spend the day at Alpha Beta lodge, Camp Baldy.

After partaking of the bounteous feast the regular Sunday morning class service was presented, with Dr. H. J. Leeding, president, reading the lesson. A short talk was given by Mr. Gerrard, followed by two readings by Miss Barbara Gerrard. The Rev. Frank M. Dowling of Fullerton was introduced and offered as his subject: "A Message From the Hills." The Rev. Mr. Dowling, in a masterful manner, wove into his message the picturesque surroundings and handiwork of the Creator and the sturdiness and endurance of the lives of these who year after year follow the commandments and teachings of the Master.

Later in the afternoon a hike into the hills was enjoyed. Upon the return to the lodge, a roaring fire was built, and toasted marshmallows and pop corn were enjoyed. Master Dick Reihl helped liven the occasion with two humorous readings.

Those who made the trip were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Montgomery and children, Floyd and Ida; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stafford and daughter, Rachel; Mr. and Mrs. Merl Taylor and son, Donald, and Howard Raab; Mrs. H. C. Parsons; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Snipes and children, Neal and Juanita; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Allison and children, Paul, Carl, Merv and Ruth Eleanor; Mr. and Mrs. Norris Keirsey and sons, David and Joe; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reihl and sons, Dick and Bobby; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Williams; Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Leeding; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stire, of San Fernando; Wm. Dowling of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Taylor of Venice; Rev. and Mrs. Frank M. Dowling of Fullerton and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gerrard and their daughter, Barbara.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

Women are more interested in persons, and men are more interested in material things—houses, money in the bank, better and bigger jobs, investments, golf clubs. This, according to Dr. F. A. Moses, professor of psychology at George Washington university, who has just completed a series of psychological tests on men and women, aimed to point out various sex differences.

He discovers that women are mentally a bit more developed than men; that women excel in matters of social tact and in accuracy of observation of human behavior.

PEOPLE AND THINGS
Men, on the other hand, have a greater variety of interests, women specializing in the personal; men, on the impersonal and material.

He points out that women commit suicide mainly for love, and men over business matters. No one, whether he knows anything about psychology or not, can argue with these findings, if he has observed men and women at all. This fact of woman's interest in the world of personal human emotions, and man's in the material and impersonal, makes one wonder that there isn't more human misery than is from very sex misunderstanding.

PROOF IN NEWS
In the day's news, for instance, is the tragic story of former District Attorney J. E. Kirkbride of Boulder, Col., who killed his wife and himself "as an act of mercy," as he explained in a farewell note.

He had lost his job, he explained, and life was a "valueless thing." That is, it was "valueless" to him; it is very probable that if he had set the facts of his business failure before his wife she would have assured him that to her, at least, it didn't matter, her death for lack of material possession was his choice, a male choice, not hers.

FLAT WIENERS
A couple of midwest gentlemen have invented a flat hot dog. They ballyhoo its advantages as non-skidding, lying flat on the bun, easier to dab with mustard, and offering more of a hang-hold to the teeth. Now that the flat wiener is an actuality, we wonder why

The MIXING BOWL

Artificial Sour Milk—Not So Good!

Occasionally under the heading of "Helpful Household Hints," you will see substitute methods for various things. One favorite is making sour milk out of sweet by the addition of vinegar when you decide to make a chocolate cake and sour milk is not at hand.

Well—it doesn't work out so successfully, at least not with my chocolate cake. Whether due to the difference in the organisms which produce sour milk and combine so successfully with soda, or to those which make vinegar and do not combine well with soda, this will always be one of the unsolved mysteries for me.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Orange Flavor Pudding.
4 cups hot milk
4 egg yolks
1 stiffly beaten white
2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons chopped almonds
1 tablespoon orange flower water
4 tablespoons cornstarch

Uh-huh, just a cornstarch pudding, but it's different!

This pudding needs thorough chilling and time to ripen the flavor. We humans go on and on, taking for granted that wieners must be round, until one day the genius decides on the flat brand, and the rest of us who see the dollars being minted wonder why we never thought of that ourselves.

Still, will a flat wiener take the place of the round one, at that? Traditional forms are rather hard to part with.

MODERN HOPE
Little Margaret Brown, 7, of Perry, Kansas, was kept alive for eleven days by firemen of Topeka, Kansas, welding a resuscitating machine. This is the one sort of thing which makes one wonder if "the good old days" were so infinitely superior to those of the present. Even if resuscitating machines had been known a generation ago, one wonders if the attempt to keep life would have gone on for eleven days. Perhaps not because human kindness was any less then, so much as that the possibility of success would have been too remote. Today we believe in the possibility of anything; science has given us that courage.

The Bidding: South bids no-trump and all pass.
Deciding the Play: West leads 5 of clubs. What card should be played from Dummy?

The Error: Queen of clubs is played. East covers with King of clubs and South with Ace of clubs so that only one trick is made in clubs and thus game is lost.

The Correct Method: 7 of clubs should be played, as in all probability, East will cover with King of clubs or Jack of clubs and Declarer will overtake with Ace of clubs. As a result, two tricks are made in clubs instead of one as Queen of clubs of 10 of clubs must thereafter make a trick. Unless two tricks are made in clubs, game is not certain.

The Principle: Before touching a card in Dummy, ascertain the probable effect thereof.

While the milk is scalding in a double boiler mix together the cornstarch, sugar and egg yolks, diluting with 1-4 cup of cold water so that the mixture may be thoroughly beaten.

When the milk is at the boiling point slowly pour in the mixture, stirring constantly until it has cooked smooth and the starchy taste is gone. Just before taking from the stove add the butter and chopped almonds and partially cool.

Have the egg whites beaten very dry, whip it and the orange flower water into the pudding quite thoroughly. Pour into a mould rinsed in cold water and chill until dinner time.

Serve it lightly piled in sherbet glasses topped with a spoonful of whipped cream.

The orange flower pudding will serve eight and the calorie total is 1450. With a heaping tablespoonful of whipped cream topping each portion the individual value would be close to 300.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Lavish night life as it is lived in these gay Volsteadian days, is the piece de resistance of Fox Films "Let's Make Whoopee," which opens at the Walker theater.

Conrad Nagel and June Collyer in "Red Wine"—Fox Picture

A conservative, successful business man—a pillar of the community, suddenly becomes cynical with life and decides to snatch a few pleasures that others about him enjoy.

The enjoyment takes the course of wine, women and a debatable type of joy. Conrad Nagel, in this role, draws the subtle contract necessary when his character suffers a change of viewpoint.

June Collyer, opposite, has never been more lovely and enacts an outstanding role as the young wife. Others in the cast include Sharon

Lynn, Dixie Gay, Arthur Stone, Miss Bo Ling, Ernest Wood, Ernest Hilliard and Marshall Bab Ruth.

WEST END

Speaking of being "on your toes," Thelma Todd exemplifies this saying in "The Crash," the current attraction at the West End theater. She is on her toes in both senses of the word. As the prima donna of a traveling burlesque troupe, she dances before an audience of riotous railroad workmen in a small mountain town.

The skill she displays in her performance stands her in good stead when the audience decides to rush the stage and she is on her toes, figuratively speaking, until the burlesque train gets out of the town. Miss Todd plays the principal role to Milton Sills star of "The Crash."

YOST BROADWAY

With a background upon which the lawless life of the underworld is painted in bold illuminating strokes, and against which is depicted the romance of two young people whirled by fate into its maelstrom, "Gang War," current offering at Yost's Broadway theater, is an unusual presentation of a city's "seamy side."

To Olive Borden and Jack Pickford, stars of many screen successes during the past few years, have been entrusted the roles of romantic interest, Miss Borden as the "taxi dancer" and Pickford as the saxophone player in a dance hall frequented by members of the underworld.

Bootlegging, hi-jacking, gang wars, Chinese New Year celebrations and machine gun attacks are dramatic episodes of the story told so graphically.

The Broadway stage revue carries the audience to Hawaii and Prince La Lal Lani and his company of 30 which includes the Smart Set Girls, Born and Lawrence, and Les Shadr's band. Native songs and dances of the Island Paradise are presented with special stage and lighting effects.

YOST SPURGEON

The distinction of having been week-end guest of the king of England, at Windsor castle, is an honor over which the highest dignitaries of the world would be elated, yet it is only one of hundreds of similar honors that have been bestowed upon the Agrenava Slaviansky Russian Choir, that is coming to the Yost Spurgeon theater tomorrow night for a single concert engagement.

In 1905, after triumphal concerts at St. James, Lord Kilmore, personal envoy of King Edward VII, called upon the leader of the choir, and in the name of the king of England, extended the invitation, stating that His Majesty would be pleased to have the entire choir spend the week-end at Windsor Castle, and if they felt inclined to give it a short program at the castle would be appreciated.

The singers arrived at Windsor by special train and were driven to the castle in the royal coaches. A concert was arranged for the following evening, at which the royal family was present, including the king, George V, and little Edward, the present Prince of Wales.

Wee Clowny stood upon some rocks, and eyed the monstrous water locks. "I've heard of these before," said he. "They're all around the land. One great big place they're always seen! The Panama canal I mean. Of course I've never looked on those, but folks say they are grand."

"You bet they are," the Sea Man said. "They tower away up overhead. To see them work would really be a thrilling sight for you. I would suggest that some bright day, when all of you are down that way, you just stop over for a while and watch the boats go through."

Then Scouty shouted, "Now let's go and see how they work down below. We've wandered all around the top and seen enough of this. I'll bet the locks, when open wide, make anybody want to hide. Gee, just imagine how the water rushes with a hiss."

So, down below they promptly went and 'bout a half an hour was spent in tramping o'er the lower bed. Then Copy cried aloud, "Where are the Trouble Tots? I'll bet they'll get us into trouble yet. I wonder what it was that made them leave our happy crowd."

The Sea Man winked his eye and smiled. Said he, "Now listen here, my child. Those pesky little Trouble Tots are up to no real good. I sadly fear that you will find they have mischief now in mind. Whatever they may do, you Tines might have known they would."

Just then the big locks opened wide. "Look out," the Sea Man loudly cried. And then he jumped to safety, while the bunch began to scream. The Trouble Tots had played their trick, and it had worked out very slick. The water from the locks took all the Tines down stream.

(The Tines are rescued in the next story.)

MURDER OF POLICE PROBE FIVE YEARS FOR ACTS OF VIOLENCE

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 19.—(UP)—Working with clock-like precision and apparently by prearrangement, five convicts—among them Pat McDermott, slayer of Don R. Mellett—broke out of the state penitentiary at dawn today.

The five sawed their way from their cells, then fled through a ventilating corridor, the door of which had been left unlocked for them. They climbed to the prison roof and slid to the ground on a rope improvised from an old mattress.

Pat McDermott, the red-headed trigger man, helped to ambush and assassinate Don R. Mellett, crusading editor of the Canton Daily News, two and a half years ago.

Seven other prisoners in the same cells with the men refused to leave, but one of them admitted as played a Jews harp while his fellow prisoner cut through the cell door bars with a hacksaw.

McDermott, described as the most insolent killer ever convicted—never will be captured alive, in the opinion of prison officials.

The delivery was brought about with inside help, Warden Thomas said. He said an investigation revealed that yesterday two prison guards entrusted a convict plumber with the key to the door of the prison ventilator.

Two of the prisoners were confined to tier three. It was here that the convict with the Jews harp played soft lullabies while his companions sawed. From tier three the two prisoners made their way to tier six where McDermott and two companions were confined. The latter three already had sawed the cell doors and the five then made their way to the door of the ventilator, over the roof and down the rope.

It was dark. Three inches of snow coated the ground and snow was still falling, muffling any sounds the prisoners may have made.

Thomas believes McDermott engineered the delivery. He was one of the most dangerous prisoners in the penitentiary.

Although he was known to be the "key man" in the Mellett assassination, McDermott stood trial and received sentence without a word. The state had offered him leniency and friends and relatives implored him to confess.

He was alleged to have been one of the gunmen hired by Ben Hunter, a millionaire junk dealer, and a powerful force in the Canton underworld, to slay Mellett who was conducting an anti-vice crusade in the columns of his paper.

EXCHANGE CLUBS' COMMITTEE IS COMPOSED OF 9 IN JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

The annual national convention of Exchange clubs will be held from October 9 to 12 in Jacksonville, Fla. This fact was made known here today by National President George Green, of Los Angeles, who addressed the Santa Ana club at its noon meeting in Ketter's cafe. Stressing the importance of aviation activities of Exchange clubs throughout the nation, Green announced that the dates of the convention had been shifted from June to October in order that they would not conflict with a national aviation dinner to be held in New York next June.

Green emphasized the value of marking flying fields so that aviators could locate them and lauded the activities of California Exchange clubs in supporting development of aviation. As a result of the Exchange club movement two new airports have been established recently in Maricopa and Wasco, he said.

In opening his address, the national president called attention to the outstanding work of Gene Douglas, past president of the Santa Ana club and district governor for the southern section of Southern California. The success of Douglas in this position has been followed, Green said, by the institution of district governors throughout the country as a means of improving the club service.

George Tobias, of the Junior college here, addressed the group on what Abraham Lincoln should mean to us today. Three phases of Lincoln's personality were singled out by the speaker, who traced the importance of ambition, fortified by determination, ideals and co-operation in Lincoln's life.

Tobias also made a plea in behalf of the student loan fund of the college, pointing out that it was used to aid worthy students, who later repaid the loans. He declared that 125 students would graduate from the college in June and that the average scholastic standards were equal or superior to those at Stanford university.

Today's program was in charge of Ed Pettitt. Pettitt introduced Miss Bertha French, of Santa Ana, who played two piano solos, "Chilene Quail" by Walter Niemann, and "Alt-Wien" by Godowsky. She also accompanied Pettitt, who sang "Sonny Boy" as the concluding number.

A number of the Santa Ana club members, with representatives from the Newport Beach club, will journey to San Bernardino tomorrow to be present on Exchange club day at the National Orange show there.
